

OREGON LITERARY FELLOWSHIPS

2010 Guidelines for Publishers

Oregon Literary Fellowships are intended to support Oregon's independent publishers and small presses. They are awarded to presses or magazines that demonstrate a commitment to literary publishing in the areas of poetry, fiction, literary nonfiction, drama and young readers literature.

Eligibility Requirements

- The press or magazine must have its business office(s) in Oregon.
- Online magazines are eligible, but the magazine must be printed out and viewable in hard copies.
- It may not have received a Literary Arts grant in the last two years.
- Current Literary Arts staff, trustees or advisory committee members are precluded from consideration; Applications by former Literary Arts staff, trustees or committee members may be considered, provided that the staff, trustee or committee member resigned from their position at Literary Arts at least six months before the earliest submission date.

Important Dates

Applications will be accepted from February 15, 2010, until 5 p.m. on Friday, June 26, 2010. This is not a postmark deadline; late entries will not be accepted. Receipt of application will be acknowledged if SASE is enclosed. All applicants will be notified of final results no later than February 15, 2011.

Submission Requirements

Please include the following in your application:

- Signed application form plus one copy.
 - Two copies of a single volume or issue published since January 1, 2009.
 - A business-sized SASE for acknowledgment of receipt of the application (optional).
- Improperly submitted applications will not be considered. Additional catalogues, press materials, or other materials will not be forwarded to the judge for review. Application materials will not be returned.

Award Information

The amount and number of fellowships are determined by the quality and quantity of applications, and the availability of funds. Fellowships may be used to fund a specific project or for general operating expenses. Fellowships are not given to support publications such as manuals, self-help books or guides. Literary Arts is prohibited from awarding any fellowship in violation of Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(3). No part of a grant may be used for propaganda or to influence legislation. No funds will be given for a political campaign or on behalf of any candidate for public office.

Selection Process

Applications are reviewed by an out-of-state judge. Selection criteria include commitment to publishing work that demonstrates superior or promising literary talent, and financial need. Priority will be given to applicants that do not receive major support from parent organizations. Literary Arts expects to receive many more applications than can be funded. Applicants should understand that not receiving a fellowship does not reflect on the worthiness of an application, nor does it preclude future applications.

Final Report from Recipients

Literary Arts asks that each recipient, within one year of receiving the fellowship, submits a brief, written report regarding the use of funds for the furthering of literary publishing. In addition, recipients are asked to acknowledge Literary Arts in any publications which fellowship funds assisted, and to provide a copy for Literary Arts' permanent collection.
