

Brian Booth Writers' Fund

Endowment Campaign

Thank you for considering supporting the Brian Booth Writers' Fund through gifts of securities, bequests, and beneficiary designations. Below is the language and information you will need to collect in order to make these types of gifts.

How to transfer gifts of securities (stocks, bonds, and mutual funds):

Gifts of stocks, bonds, or mutual funds can provide you with great tax benefits. To make a gift of securities, please contact Lydah DeBin at 503-227-2583 ext 106 or at lydah@literary-arts.org. We will connect you with our representative at Union Bank. You will need to provide the cost basis of the stock and the date of acquisition.

How to make a bequest gift to Literary Arts:

The following sample language may assist you as you consider creating your bequest for Literary Arts' Brian Booth Writers' Fund. Please note that Literary Arts recommends that you consult your own legal counsel regarding bequests and specific language for your will.

I give and bequeath to Literary Arts, an Oregon Nonprofit Corporation located in Portland, Oregon, [written dollar amount, or percentage of estate, or description of property] as an unrestricted gift to the Brian Booth Writers' Fund.

How to name Literary Arts as a beneficiary:

Although most assets pass to your intended beneficiaries by the terms of your will, some assets such as IRAs, retirement plans, and life insurance policies are not controlled by the terms of your will. These assets require separate beneficiary forms, which you can easily modify at any time.

Questions? Please contact Lydah DeBin at 503-227-2583 x 106

If you have already included Literary Arts in your estate plans, please let us know so we can thank and recognize you appropriately!
